We have heard so many motivational speeches but this one could be the most favourite speech we have heard. I personally felt that one who experiment with the situation in their life and share their ups and downs they go through in their journey will really be a great start up for everyone. This session. This session gone very well and it is planned structural and I could taste the real fruit at the end of the session which depicts that the instructional objectives is perfectly planned and hope you could see the learning outcome from us. We surely follow whatever inputs you gave. And by your words we are looking for the result which we have planned today. I just inspired with the statement that we should mutually value others time. This will be our most crucial thing we should focus on in our day to day life. Finally, we really admire the way you carry on the session like giving more and more examples and the experiences you have shared with us are very useful for us. Everyone can imagine the situation and understood the content which you thought today sir. We are inspired and motivated by you. Thank you for this wonderful session and your valuable time sir. Also, I thank our Head of the Department of Mathematics and the organising team for arranging this “EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS” session for us.
